Grief SUPPORT GROUP

You are not alone. ♥

Are you having feelings around your kids in care returning home or being moved to another home?

It's a real loss. Your feelings are valid.

It's normal to experience a mix of emotions—sadness, grief, emptiness, or even relief.
This group provides a safe space to share,
be heard, and connect with other resource parents who truly understand.

Your feelings matter. You matter.

This group is open to all Maryland foster,
kinship, guardianship, and adoptive parents.

This support group is facilitated by fellow resource parents who have experienced these same feelings of grief and loss. It is designed to provide understanding, encouragement, and peer support in a confidential,
judgment-free environment. ♥
